

Liberty and Justice for All? Race, Sexuality, and Citizenship in the Wake of the Holocaust and Jim Crow South

Tuesday, April 11, 2017

7:00 p.m. ET

Student Union Theater
Valdosta State University
1500 N. Patterson St.
Valdosta, GA

CO-ORGANIZED BY

This program is free and open to the public.

Co-organized by the Department of Student Diversity and Inclusion, the Honors College, the Department of History, the Women's and Gender Studies Program, and the Graduate School at Valdosta State University. Generous support was provided by the Jerome A. Yavitz Charitable Foundation, Inc., and Arlyn S. and Stephen H. Cypen..

IN THIS ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION, students, scholars, and the campus community will explore the role of law and legal continuities in both justifying and challenging systemic, racial discrimination in society.
